The Genomics Intelligence Revolution

JANUARY 24, 2017 GAURAV GARG DATA

At Wing, we are hugely excited about the potential of advances in genomics and data science to produce innovative startups. Clear Labs (https://www.clearlabs.com/) , one of our recent investments, is a great example of how next-generation sequencing and data analytics can be combined to create actionable intelligence for food brands. In a recent article in TechCrunch, which can be accessed by clicking here (https://techcrunch.com/2017/01/21/the-genomics-intelligence-revolution/) , Mahni Ghorashi, one of Clear Labs' cofounders, and I examine the key developments in the Genomics Intelligence Revolution that are driving change in this fascinating and critically important domain.
